I have installed RVM to manage multiple ruby versions, however, for some reason, I keep getting "RVM already exists as /home/user/.rvm". How do I stop RVM from creating the folder again? A: I would recommend removing RVM and re-installing it. RVM provides a way to manage your environment which can leave things in places that aren't necessarily easy to find. If you're unsure if you're deleting any files, back up the directory. If you're not sure, I'd recommend just removing

RVM and then re-installing it from scratch. Q: Angular 2 child component not being displayed when changing route I am new to Angular 2 and am trying to create a child component 2d92ce491b
