Keymacro is a free, command line utility that helps manage MS Exchange 2000 mailboxes. It can be used to: ⬜ Search for mailboxes. ⬜ Delete or move mailboxes. ⬜ Export emails from the user mailbox to a local mailbox. ⬜ Import mailboxes from a local mailbox into the user mailbox. ⬜ Add labels to mailboxes. ⬜ Print mailboxes to the default printer. ⬜ Print a mailbox item to the default printer. ⬜ Delete a mailbox item. ⬜ Mark an email message for deletion. ⬜ Move an email message to the trash. ⬜ Add or modify labels for mailboxes. ⬜ Filter messages using the Delegate to operator. In this article we will see the usage of the command line utility in two situations. To Move Emails from a mailbox to Local mailboxes: Downloading Email Attachments: If you are looking for file attachments in the email then following command will help you. Keymacro can search mailboxes for specified search pattern, find the details of the mailboxes containing the search pattern and optionally print them. The search pattern is a string of characters that represents the type of search that needs to be performed. The search is performed by using a wild card character. For example, If you want to search for "sample" then the search pattern would be "sample". The following examples search for all mailboxes that contain the search pattern and print the results. mk2mailbox -m sample -l Above command searches for all mailboxes that contain "sample" and displays the results. The -l switch displays the name and mailbox size of the mailbox. The following example searches for all mailboxes that contain the search pattern and print the results. mk2mailbox -m sample -l If you want to search only for a specific mailbox in the list then you can use the -u switch. The following example searches for all mailboxes that contain the search pattern and print the results. mk2mailbox -m sample -l -u user_name MK2Mailbox has the ability to search and mark mailboxes for deletion. The following example searches for all mailboxes that contain the search pattern and marks for deletion the mailboxes that contain "sample" and prints the results. 70238732e0
