Chapter 2 Introduction to Flash Builder Contents Flash Builder is a tool for building, editing and debugging Adobe Flex projects. Flash Builder uses the same tools as Flash Player and AIR, such as FlashBuilder.exe, Flash Builder\bin\fb.exe, Flash Builder\bin\html\fb.html and Flash Builder\bin\as\fb.as. In addition, Flash Builder integrates with the Flex SDK by providing access to the Flex framework, and a plug-in for the Eclipse IDE that provides access to the Flex framework. You will learn about the Flex framework, tools and the Eclipse IDE in this chapter. The tools that Flash Builder uses for building and debugging projects are the same that Flash Player uses. If you have Flash Player installed on your computer, you already have the same tools. The main components of Flash Builder are: The Flex SDK, which consists of the Flex framework and the built-in IDE. An integrated version of the Eclipse IDE, which allows you to develop Flex projects. A run time environment that hosts the Flex applications that you build. All of these components are included in the Flash Builder Runtime. You don't need to install Flash Builder on your computer if you just want to use Flash Builder to develop Flex applications. Instead,
