Repack-3.Q: How can I get Java to start a new process as the same user? I'm opening the JBoss Application Server under Java, then using JMX to spawn a process to start an app server process as the same user, then close the app server process once the Java script has done its work. For the life of me, I can't figure out how to get Java to run the new command as a specific user. Any help would be greatly appreciated. A: Try the seteuid command. Changing the user that Java runs as is a bad idea and can lead to DoS attacks on the JVM. Q: Electromagnetic field energy This is a question I am very confused about. There is a source and a coil and they are separated by a distance d. I don't know how to calculate the energy of the electric field. I think that with the integral $$E = \int_S B \, ds$$ I can get the energy of the magnetic field and that would be just fine if $d=\infty$. But how could I find the energy of the electric field? Could someone help me understand this? A: In order to understand the energy of a magnetic field, you need to realise that the energy of the field as a vector field is due to the fact that it is a property of a flow of charge. That is, the flow of electrons in a circuit is what creates a magnetic field. (This is
