KEYMACRO can be used to assign one or more keyboard shortcuts to a selection of buttons in your game. It also allows you to create pre-defined macros, and save them for later reference. Why Use It? Keymacro allows you to quickly assign a key to the action of a button in your game. For instance, you can create a macro to lock a door, where you press the key 'F3' to lock it. This allows you to focus on your game without having to constantly look at the keyboard. What You Can Do With Keymacro, you can customize the following actions: * Enable and configure different keybindings to select multiple options * Define and save macros to use in your game * Create a single macro from a group of existing keybindings * Use the program while your game is running * Choose the window where Keymacro should appear and remain on screen * Choose the size of the button displayed on screen How To Use It? Follow the instructions in the Help file for setting up the program and creating your first macro. Keymacro is easy to use and it requires no installation. All you have to do is to choose a file to open when starting the program, and define the keybindings you want to use. You can test your macro while you are playing your game, which makes it easy to find out what the game does before you apply the macro to your keyboard. Limitations Keymacro does not support the following actions: * Sending text to your chat client * Changing the game resolution * Opening websites with a different web browser * Making phone calls * Removing and adding textures to an item * Changing the camera or movement * Changing the framerate of the game * Modifying the contents of an object * Choosing a different object to use in an animation sequence * Interrupting the game's current function AudioVideoSoftware Irrlicht 1.7.2 - audio/video player software for your game...
