It's a 2011 3.1 ls6 hellcat and im in the process of building the engine. One thing though is the motor mounts and the power steering mounting brackets broke off. I cant find them for sale in my area. I was wondering if any one knew where i could get the original mounts from the v8. Im pretty sure the only thing missing is the power steering bracket. I was told they were the same or at least made in the same factory. My friend has a 9motor which was a white powder with the halos but he has the mounts for that motor. If you have any other suggestions or ideas thatd be great. Re: 2011 Chevelle 3.1 Hellcat The mounts and brackets are the same. The brackets hold the mounts in place, so you still need that one to make the parts. I don't know where you live, but I'm in VA and I've been searching for those mounts for a while with no luck. Hopefully, someone else here has seen them and is passing them along. Re: 2011 Chevelle 3.1 Hellcat I know where you are, I looked for a while on ebay and thought I got them. But turns out I just had the wrong numbers. The brackets I had are the v8 mountings. Thanks for the help. I can always email the chevy people in my area if I cant find them. g e s t v a l u e ?
