Sunan of Muhammad, a famous Tafsir of the Qur'an which is still very popular today with Muslims. . Tafseer al-Tibeeya Ahmad is not referring to any book from his knowledge. It is an account of what he gathered from other Tafsirs, from other Sunni scholars, as well as from others who have used the Qur'an for tafsir. It was originally written in Arabic, but for the purpose of the English language, some parts of the translation have been edited. . 1. Abu Bakr (or Abu Bakr bin Abd Al-Rahman bin Awwam bin Ya'qub al-Isami) (d. 657), Sala' of Manfaa'ah, who wrote a tafsir named al-Ghazali wa al-Tibeeya min al-Qur'an. 2. 'Abd Al-Rahman bin 'Awwam, ibn Hilal al-Qurashiyya al-Manfi'i. 3. 'Abdullah bin 'Umar, Abu-Bakr Al-Ansaari. 4. 'Abd Al-Rahman bin 'Abdallah bin 'Amr al-Ansaari. 5. 'Abdullah bin Salih bin 'Umar bin Al-Khattab. . The author of the Tafsir Ibn Kathir. He is referring to the book of al-Mundhir ibn Haydatha (the author of al-Zamakhshari). There are others, such as the book of al-Bal'amid (the author of al-Shaafa'i), the book of Sayyid Abu al-Hassan al-Tabrizi (the author of al-Shaykh al-Mufid) and the book of al-Busti (the author of the al-Tadhkirat al-kabir). Tabari's Tafsir. A revised and enlarged version of the al-Mudqani's tafsir. He is referring to the book of al-Busti (the author of al-Tadhkirat al-Kabir).
