I started shooting it at the range and it was awesome fun for a few months. I did learn something new, a different stance, and how to really hold and shoot that type of rifle. It was about that time that I switched over to revolvers and that's when I decided I wanted to go black ops. I didn't want to get a real rifle. I only kept that one for a while. Quote: I figured that it was fun for about 4-6 months and I could never get the safety to work and my back would hurt from shooting it for so long. I liked the gun but it was just not for me. Quote: And then about a year ago I decided to buy a gun from Smith and Wesson. I found a revolvers and couldn't resist. I just love that little puppy. It's called the 9mm. I was used to shooting the 1911's and I didn't know how a pistol shot would be. I was kinda surprised. I know it's not the most accurate but it is a nice pistol and I don't have to change hands to shoot it. it got me in some serious trouble back then. lol, I know, it was the first one I had and I was stupid.
