its open-source ad blocker, AdGuard for Windows 1.9.6.0.632. This release is focused on the stability, performance, and the new features. We have optimized the code, as well as added a lot of new things to make AdGuard better. Many of those changes have been added by popular requests or user suggestions, and some have been from internal research. The new AdGuard for Windows 1.9.6.0.632 comes with a complete overhaul of the UI, which gives you a cleaner and faster experience. And we have also made some changes that allow you to have a better control over your privacy settings. The new AdGuard for Windows 1.9.6.0.632 will provide you with the best performance. This ad blocker is as powerful as ever, but now it will perform even faster. The improved algorithm allows the ad blocker to detect all the new ad formats and block them, as well as block HTTP headers and other types of advertising
