[3] Before trial, he was hit with a contempt citation for refusing to testify and remained on probation until well after the trial. [4] In addition to the report of Dr. Noll, defense counsel presented three other experts, who found that defendant suffered from some form of organic brain damage. [5] It is also possible that the failure to object at trial was tactical. During his first trial, defendant, acting pro se, pursued a strategy of blaming his codefendant for the crime, and "crossed the river" with respect to his own participation. (It was a strategy that proved unsuccessful.) He may have been unwilling to have his expert testify with respect to his own level of culpability. [6] The three conditions of a stipulation read as follows: "1. The Defendant shall not bring into the courtroom a gun, gun magazine, gun belt, or any other weapon or instrument which resembles a gun or gun magazine or which can be used in the manner of a gun or gun magazine. 2. The Defendant shall not wear, display or carry any such weapon or instrument in his clothing or in any location or position where it is readily accessible or visible. 3. The Defendant shall not carry any weapon or instrument in any form of transportation." [7] 5b5f913d15
