The tool makes sure your PC runs at a high FPS with no lag. Simply add the 3 files to your Windows Explorer, expand the folder and run the setup.exe. The application then installs itself into the Oculus Server in the C:\ProgramData\Oculus\Win11OculusFix folder. Afterwards, you'll need to launch the OCULUS_SERVER program in the run box and add the C:\ProgramData\Oculus\Win11OculusFix folder to the startup folder. Important Note: The OCULUS_SERVER.exe program runs with high FPS (frame-per-second) while Oculus is running, so be careful when you are having Skype calls or playing a game since it can affect the FPS. How to Install and Use Win11OculusFix Open your Windows Explorer, find and open the OCULUS_SERVER application's folder. Extract the three files inside the folder, note that you should extract them in the same folder. Close Windows Explorer, open the setup.exe to launch the tool. Choose "I accept" to complete the setup. Afterward, continue with the installation. You'll be prompted to reboot your computer, so hit "Next" once you are done with the reboot. Once the tool is installed, it should run automatically without further hassle. Nevertheless, if you don't see the changes, open the OCULUS_SERVER application and perform the steps below to make it run as the foreground process. Open OCULUS_SERVER application, right-click anywhere in the Windows desktop and select "Bring to Foreground" to launch Oculus as the foreground application.Q: In order to republish a publication, I get a 404 in Response.StatusCode if I open the link (directly to the site or in the console) In order to republish a publication in Sitecore 9.3 update 2 we need to: Save the publication Open the Sitecore Power Tool Choose the publish action Apply After the apply it throws an exception with exception message: HTTP 404. Oculus Weekly Update: Thanks and enjoy! A: Oculus is a console. If you are playing it from a Win10 PC with Remote Desktop, it's just another app in the Start menu and you can launch it directly from there. If you want to control it via the normal OS UI you need to launch it from the Start menu using File Explorer or the Run dialog and it can be set to run as a foreground process in System Properties. If you're connecting via Steam Remote Play (which requires using a Displaylink adapter) it can be set to always run in the foreground. In our travels, sometimes our car goes dead. With thousands of miles, we often find ourselves in a strange and foreign world. Car shut-offs can be especially challenging. Luckily, among the world's most advanced and sophisticated automobiles, you'll find the best roadside assistance solutions. The following are some of the best roadside assistance you'll find anywhere. The first and most important thing to consider is the source of your car trouble. It's important to gather as much info as you can before contacting the service provider. This information will help the source help you. To find the source of your emergency quickly and accurately, you'll need to look for these identifiers: The model of your vehicle. A service provider specializing in international vehicle assistance should have the most updated and accurate models of your vehicle. Where you are. For instance, if you are in a foreign country, a provider that operates mostly in that country and has an international network is probably going to have the most efficient service in the area. However, if you are in a small town in a remote area, a provider that operates only in the local area is probably going to be your best option. Also, certain regions and towns will have more service providers than others. The source of the car trouble. You'll probably use the service provider's website to verify this information, but they should provide you with contact information about where and from whom your car needs to be towed. This information will help you make sure the service provider is the best option for your situation. There are certain things to know about each of the top
