One particular scenario is when I receive a message which has at least one and only one of the conditions. I have written a find script but it doesn't seem to work. save_json=cat messages.json | jq '. | grep -m 1 'A1A2A3' | jq -r '[0].inventory.name' rm -rf messages.json echo "Ssave_json" >> messages.json find -type f -maxdepth 1 -exec basename {} \; >> messages.json find -type f -maxdepth 1 -exec file {} \; >> messages.json The output of the script is: D1. . . . A1. . . . A3. How can I make the script work as expected? A: Your input files are neither in a single directory nor located on the same filesystem as the script, so the basename and file command will likely fail. You may want to use sed and/or tr: set -- "Smessages.json" "Ssave_json" echo "S1" | sed -n '1-{sl 1/; 570a42141b
