

My main question is: tell me, 3am Digital Studios, if your codec is an implementation of the original x264, why is its quality so noticeably different? I can .mp4 in the same format as you, but at a significantly higher frame rate and with much better image quality. Also, if you can't provide me with the original x264 version that your extension is based on, then why not do it in mpeg2 using a newer codec? If you can't provide me with the original .mp4 version, please make it an mpeg2 copy using a newer codec. If you can do it, then why not do it in .mp4?
