What's New In Boris Continuum Complete?

Now this is my favorite tool. Great for compositing and perfect for Final Cut. I have been using it for years. My workflow is about 90% Final Cut and 10% AE. I just love Final Cut and this is the best of the best for me. Also, it is a great app for when I want to just make a few effects and spice things up a bit. What I like about it: 1. What I like the most is that you can customize the timeline. What I mean is, you can make a custom timeline where you can drag and drop just about anything. You can drag objects around and actually customize the names of the layers, just like the timeline in FCP. You can actually do an entire animation in a custom timeline. This is very impressive. 2. I can easily drag objects and have them automatically change their source. So, for example, if I have a video file in AE that I want to use as a background, I can drag the file right over the timeline and it will show up in the timeline. You can also drag it outside of the timeline. 3. You can create backgrounds using just about anything. You can also bring in a multi-track audio file from a DVD and drag it over the timeline. I use this a lot. 4. You can bring in many formats of files and not just video files. For example, you can bring in a folder of images, or maybe even an entire flash drive. Any time you want to you can use an object to change the source of a layer. This can be extremely useful. 5. You can make a custom title screen that can have any design or video that you want. This would be great for that powerpoint presentation where you need a title screen. You can add any type of video you want, and drag any object over it. You can even add a custom animation. You can even add a custom background if you want. 6. You can add a video, still image, or any type of file to a layer. You can bring in an audio file and add it to a layer as a new track. This is really helpful. 7. You can create a custom composite. 8. You can create keyframes with the timeline. 9. You can add effects to any layer. 10. You can create sliders in the timeline and slide them to any time you want. 11. You can create text boxes, etc. in the timeline. 12. You can mix multiple layers together and create a composite. 13. You can create a custom timeline to combine multiple layers together. 14. You can make an automation that would change the look of a layer. 15. You can add effects to layers and change them at any time. 16. You can change the look

Introduction I can't remember when I first noticed the "hero" images in my paintings. I suppose it was sometime before I was aware that all my color photographs would turn out with a slight cast of gray as the white balance in the camera was set for something warmer than my actual color temperature. I remember very distinctly that I was not at all displeased when I saw these first,
