The five are underdogs in their campaign to retain the B.C. Liberals on May 9. But in a media event at the Victoria Flying Club on Wednesday, the NDP's provincial nomination candidates for Delta, Victoria, Saanich North and the Islands, Victoria-Seymour and Central Saanich said they are ready to take on their Liberal opponents. "I will represent the needs of Delta Islanders and I'll be bringing my military skills and talents to this job," said Delta New Democrat Raymond Chan. "Every kid wants to grow up to be an astronaut, pilot, firefighter," Chan continued. "Those are the things that we were born to do. That's our nature. And that's how we work." Born to fly B.C. NDP Delta candidate Raymond Chan says that kids want to be astronauts and pilots, just as they do firefighters, but they don't get to grow up that way. 2:54 Chan holds a pilot's licence with instrument ratings for aircraft including a Learjet and a Cessna 185. "I think it's going to be quite an advantage," Chan said. "The government is being run by this very reactionary group. They like the status quo — it's one of their oldest beliefs." Four of the five pilots are women. Chan is the only male. "Women have a great work ethic and the capacity to do a lot of things and the same qualities apply to men," Chan said. "I have the confidence
