Percentiles for total scores (2006)[edit]. The following chart shows the original percentiles used for the March 2005 version of the SAT. Bottom right (%) is the pass rate; on average in the same line (%) - the percentage of students with positive grades. It shows that the first four percentiles were quite high, but nevertheless the results were still quite good. Compared to 2004 graduates, students who took the SAT in 2005 scored 23% higher. (To compare the results of these years, take a look at the chart in the previous section.)
