The application sports a single interface that carries several sections which are assigned to the different, corresponding channels of the mixer. Each section features multiple adjustment sliders, which offer both manual setting, as well as numerical input, in the provided entry fields. Having configured a scene to their liking, users then have the choice of saving it for later use. Likewise, one can also load pre-defined scenes, edit the configuration file which holds the IP address for the mixer or reset the all adjustments entirely. Professional Level Video Lighting LED Light Bars to Control Any Video Mixer was designed specifically for users who need the most powerful and versatile lighting solution when it comes to controlling their video mixers' output level. To achieve this, the developer behind the application intended to design a solution that meets the needs of users who work with different, high-quality video cameras, which can output video in varying formats. Accordingly, the app provides a wide range of predefined, multi-channel lighting scenes. In addition, users can set up their own lighting scenes. The scenes can be created in a variety of ways: via manually adjusting the lighting's parameters, by reading from an attached video camera or input device's sensor and subsequently assigning these changes to a scene. Once set, a scene can then be saved for later recall. Once recalled, users will be able to retrieve the channel mixer's state at the time the lighting scene was created. Using this information, it is possible to adjust the channel mixer's output accordingly. This includes the ability to instantly cut, trim or adjust the height of the level, with the help of sliders. Furthermore, users can adjust the channel mixer's balance, the overall volume and the camera's gain, if the mixer allows such adjustments and if applicable, dynamically load a scene on or off, according to the working state of the camera. In addition, the app also features a synchronizing function that allows users to bring multiple video cameras under the same display at once, as well as being able to connect multiple video cameras or other input devices that support this function.
