The theater's mission statement is to "bring alive stories of the human condition that challenge us, give us hope and enable us to find courage to do better." This will be achieved through the creation and presentation of theatrical and musical productions as well as the production of original content on their YouTube channel. The mission of this channel is to provide a safe, creative space for all individuals, regardless of background or ability, to be able to live their dreams without fear of judgement or persecution. In an era of 'fake news' and increased polarization amongst all manner of identity groups, our current media landscape is lacking a common place where members of the public can enjoy compelling stories told from all sides. Pleasant Run Theater exists to provide that place. We exist to create experiences that force us to consider the human condition and embrace the courage to do better. The role of mRNA stability in gene regulation by the Gcn2p-eIF2a network. Hemoglobin gene expression is mediated by a transcriptional feedforward mechanism, and is controlled by iron-sulfur protein synthesis which requires the participation of the transcriptional initiation factors eIF2a and GCN2. GCN2 is an eIF2a kinase that regulates translation of some mRNAs during amino acid deprivation. Here we report that dephosphorylation of eIF2a by the phosphatase Gcn2p contributes to the rapid recovery of iron-sulfur protein synthesis in yeast after the initial induction of protein synthesis. Translation of this group of mRNAs is coupled to the mRNA stability of the corresponding mRNAs. This coupling is mediated by Gcn2p-dependent remodeling of the mRNA interaction with ribonucleoprotein complexes containing the exosome and the nuclear cap-binding complex. Inexpensive, portable, and well suited for use in conjunction
