The world is the product of genius. This is one idea that all of us have come across. When we look into the history of the man of genius, he is a thinker. But what is the view of man of genius from the point of view of the man of science? That is, how did they think? It is observed that the world is not the product of ordinary people. It is the product of a man of genius. From the very beginning of the history of science, when the entire history of the world, which is our experience, was contained in the ancient texts called the "Sanskrit Dictionary", it is seen that every thing was made known to the people at that time. This is the view of science from the point of view of the man of science. The man of science is not a man of ordinary minds. It is a man of extraordinary minds. He has been studying the subject called the world. He has not studied just the earth, but he has studied the sun, stars, planets, planets, the black holes, the whole universe. What does it mean? The planets are more than the earth. They are not just the earth, but they are the earth and the sky. The sun, the moon, the planets, and the stars are not just the earth and the sky. They are not just the earth and the sky. They are more than the earth and the sky. These are the products of the great scientists of the past who have not only studied the earth, but who have studied the cosmos. The world is the product of genius. This is one idea that all of us have come across. When we 77a5ca646e
