Thursday, December 28, 2007 Christmas & Pasta I cooked up my Holiday Dinner last night (I've got Christmas off this year...yay!) with some leftovers from our party, and a delicious meal for my parents, who are visiting from out-of-town. I made Garlic and Herb Parmesan Pasta and Roasted Broccoli with Pesto and Cheese Sauce for the main course. I've made it a few times already this year, and it's quickly becoming a favorite. Here's what you need: 1/2 a head of broccoli Pesto sauce from the jar (you can make your own, but I found that the brand I like has Parmesan, basil and garlic in it) 1 c. pasta (I made this a bit fancier than usual by adding some uncooked red & green peppers to the pasta water) 1/4 c. parmesan cheese (go heavy on the parmesan) Parmesan cheese for the top of the broccoli What to do: 1) Bring a pot of water to a boil. Drop in the broccoli (stems and all) and cover. Boil for 4-5 minutes, or until tender. Drain and set aside. 2) Saute peppers in butter in a skillet over medium heat for about 5-6 minutes, or until tender. Then add pasta. 3) Next, add pesto to the pasta (it's best to add it while the pasta is cooking in order to avoid a soggy pasta). Add enough water to make a nice sauce. 4) Add cheese to the pasta and toss well. Serve immediately with Parmesan for garnish.
