
Dd-wrt Super Channel Activation Keygen

You will need to generate a special key to be able to activate the superchannel.

So select

"SuperChannel/ExtraChannel" in our activation... At this point, you will be redirected to a page where you can set your superchannel parameters... You can create it as a local channel if you want it to be for your local network only, or you can create it as a public channel for internet access... Now you can create a password for your superchannel to prevent other people from accessing it... This was our first step in creating a super channel... Now we are ready for the next step...
