Learn more Quick Specs Editors' Review If you're looking for a management application for small businesses, inFlow On-Premise is a good solution. It allows you to organize your vendors, customers, orders and so on in a fairly straightforward way and reports allow you to see your sales, inventory and other data in a number of different ways. The basic features are free; the Plus and Premium editions include more advanced features like PDF, Excel and barcode generation. Quick install that doesn't break Windows 7; did it all within 5 minutes. Thank you! Pros Cons Crashes a lot, may be unreliable, can't extract extensions (though I don't see why).“I think (Davis) is a dominant talent at the position in this league,” Colts coach Chuck Pagano said Tuesday. “He does a lot of things right. I think he does a great job (of) seeing the things, guarding the things that are good for him and attacking the things he needs to attack. He's a strong, physical guy, and he's got a nose for the football. I think he's able to dominate and be productive in the league. He has a lot of intangibles.” No one is saying this is easy to do against Davis. He is the No. 1 safety in the league by a mile. And he is in his third year in the league. So it's fair to say this is the biggest game of his career. And if he wants to make a statement, he will. He always plays better in the postseason. He has done it all year long, including in last season's run to the Super Bowl, where he had six tackles, one sack and forced a fumble that led to a touchdown. “His instincts are off the charts,” Pagano said. “He's instinctive, intelligent. I think he's a great football player. He's an elite guy, as you can see.” He has five interceptions and he has missed only two tackles this season. He is constantly challenging the quarterback, be it against veteran quarterbacks or rookie quarterbacks. He can get burned in the NFL game, and that's why he is so difficult to defend, especially when the Chiefs are playing with the lead late in the fourth quarter. Davis is considered the second-best free safety in the NFL behind only Kansas City's Eric Berry
