Winter Screensaver: Smooth Autumn: Description: 1.845 MBThe present invention relates to heart pacemakers, and more particularly to a bypass dirotic notch detection circuit for heart pacemaker including an auxiliary ventricular contractile stimulator atrial rate responsive control. Pacemaker or artificial heart units have been used to apply stimulating pulses to the atria and ventricles of the heart and to control the heart rate in a normal heart rhythm. These devices have incorporated a ventricular rate responsive generator and an atrial rate responsive generator for generating the stimulating pulses. The ventricular rate responsive generator includes a detector that detects the R wave of the heart beat and provides a signal to control the rate responsive generator. This system usually is actuated in the ventricular portion of the heart. The atrial rate responsive generator is a band pass unit for monitoring the atrial cardiac activity, which can be detected by external electrodes that are applied to the patient's skin. The atrial rate responsive generator controls a switch to provide stimulating pulses to the atria to assist in pumping of blood throughout the patient 09e8f5149f
