free .NET application developed by a group of Malaysian IOS developers. The app was originally developed to cover the current situation of Malaysian radio stations that were streaming the radio show via RSS via the internet. Since the development of the app, Golden Software International (GSI) has since bought the rights to the app and started developing it into a bigger & stable application. Thanks for all the support from GSI, we really appreciate it. Please watch out for any further changes and update soon. Enjoy the app and let us know of any bugs you may find. If you like the app and want to support the development, please follow the developer. Powered by:
