About three minutes later, the door to the bedroom opened and a fireman said, "You got to get out of bed. You're going to freeze to death." But the girl did not want to get out of bed. The girl did not move at all. Instead, she called for her mother. "Mama, help me!" she begged. The mother entered the room. "What's the matter? Are you scared? Are you cold? Why won't you get out of bed?" The mother pulled a nightgown out of her closet and put it on the girl. She held the girl's hands. "Come on, get out of bed, it's time to get up. You'll be late for school." The mother pulled the girl's hands from the nightgown and turned on the light. The girl put her hand to her mouth. "Oh, my God!" she said. "Why are you all wet?" The mother giggled. "Oh, I had an accident," the girl said. "It's okay, it's okay. Mommy will dry you off." The girl
