Q: How do I pause an IOPipe? In the QuickTypeKeyboard, you can tap the Keyboard Empty icon to temporarily suspend a TextField or a TouchBar. How do I do that for an IOPipe? A: There is no such ability in iOS. There are some third-party keyboard that might have one. If the API doesn't provide such feature, I assume you could create your own one.

Colocalization of aldehyde dehydrogenase with glutathione-S-transferase at the human apical plasma membrane: evidence for oxidoreductase/biotransferase function. Aldehyde dehydrogenase (ALDH) and glutathione-S-transferase (GST) are present in many tissues and tumor cell lines. The current study used the human adenocarcinoma cell line, HeLa, to determine if ALDH was localized at the apical membrane of the cells. Cell membrane fractions were isolated, fractionated by gel filtration chromatography, and assayed for ALDH and GST activity. The results demonstrated that specific activity for the enzymes was present in the membrane fractions from both apical and basolateral sides of the cells. The fluorescence intensities of alphacytochrome C-dependent oxidation and coenzyme-dependent reduction were found to be very similar among the two membranes. It was also demonstrated that activity was also present in the membrane fraction isolated by centrifugation at 100,000 x g for 3 h. The presence of ALDH and GST at the apical membrane of HeLa cells was further supported by immunolocalization studies using specific antibodies against human ALDH and GST, respectively. The data are consistent with possible role of oxidoreductase/biotransferase activity of these enzymes at the plasma membrane.
