Q: Conexión a base de datos desde C# Tengo una aplicación C# de dos usuarios. A un usuario tengo que añadir la base de datos sqlite. El otro usuario usa la aplicación y debe sacar datos. Como he ido estructurando la aplicación con muchos arreglos, en el contexto de la aplicación no podemos acceder a las vistas de la base de datos, porque tiene que ser accesible para el usuario. ¿Como puedo hacer para que el usuario otro del controlador pueda acceder a la base de datos? Actualización Si en la aplicación tengo que acceder a la base de datos, entonces no tengo que cambiar el siguiente código: using (SQLiteConnection con = new SQLiteConnection(this.ConnectionString)) { con.Open(); using (SQLiteCommand cmd = new SQLiteCommand()) { cmd.CommandText = "SELECT * FROM Table"; cmd.Connection = con; SQLiteDataReader DR = cmd.ExecuteReader(); while (DR.Read()) { var item = DR["id"];
