Contact AI – Players can struggle to recognise danger when caught in challenging situations. The Contact AI system has been overhauled so players can receive higher risk passes with greater accuracy. “We know that the early FIFA versions on 3DS/PS3 required improvements to the AI,” comments Reinhard Pollice, Senior Director of Player Intelligence on FIFA 22. “With FIFA 19 we introduced a brand new AI system, which was a key step in making the AI significantly more intelligent than previous versions. Thanks to the excellent feedback we received, we have developed the AI further and incorporated it into the new HyperMotion technology, making the game more intelligent.” “The development team have used our experiences with the FIFA 19 AI system to make the core of the new HyperMotion technology even more intelligent. The goal was to make the AI more aware of the environment and opponents’ movements, so that the AI makes precise passes and tackles, as well as strikes a good balance between offering successful passes, making interceptions, and avoiding out-of-bounds and difficult situations.” With the data captured by the motion capture suits which track the player’s movements in 3D, FIFA 22 provides the players with a more immersive and more realistic football experience.
