Here is my Dropbox setup: Person A and person B are two admins of a Dropbox folder that I have shared with them. The folder name is 'Foo'. Person A and person B are two different users on this computer. Person A logs into one computer and person B logs into the other computer. The folder Foo has some old files. For instance, in this folder Foo, there is a text file called PersonA.txt, and the text file has data that are redundant since it was in the folder Foo previously. Person A forgot to delete this redundant file before he moved it to the folder Foo in the other computer, so now this redundant file has data that are not relevant now. I want to know if it is
