Select Next . 2) Continue and agree to the License Agreement terms and conditions. Select Next . 3) The activation process will now begin. The screen above will display two labels: "Activation Progress" and "Activation Status". Click on the Activate License icon. 4) After the activation is complete, you should see the full version of the On-Screen Takeoff app displayed on your iPad. When you tap the app on your iPad, you will be taken to the regular on-screen takeoff option. I'm still experiencing some issues with OST while the Status Bar app is open. If you're having issues with this app, you might want to try the following: The app is pre-installed and is not always available in the App Store. You can use the app to take off even if the app is closed or the On-Screen Takeoff shortcut is disabled. Try to delete and reinstall the app. Turn on airplane mode and see if this fixes your issue. Turn off airplane mode and see if your issue resolves itself. Updates iOS7 The Android version of the Status Bar was updated to include the iOS7 buttons. I'm not sure if the iOS7 buttons will work with the iPad, only the iPhone. If the iOS7 buttons don't work with your iPad, you can try using the original Status Bar app.Q: Declaring variables to use in mongodb/javascript/node.js I have the following node.js code: var mongoClient = require('mongodb').MongoClient var uri = "mongodb://localhost/test" var db = mongoClient.connect(uri, function(err, db) { if (err) { console.log(err); } else { console.log("MongoDB client connected"); var collection = db.collection('test'); collection.find().toArray(function(err, results) { console.log(results); db.close(); }); } }); The problem is that I get an error on db.close(); saying 'unhandledPromiseRejectionWarning' Any idea how I should change my code in order to declare a variable for db so I can close it after the statement inside the function. I can't see how to do that with what I have so far. Thanks A: You need to add promises to your code: var mongoClient = require('mongodb').M
