The most important features of Photoshop are available in Photoshop Elements. The only exception is the Liquify tool, which is not available in PS Elements. Another important difference is that in Photoshop, you can use a keyboard shortcut (Cmd+P by default) to open a dialog box that contains a list of all the images on your computer. This is available in Photoshop Elements, but you must use the File menu to access it, which is much less convenient. Importing and manipulating images Exporting Photoshop files Photoshop files are compressed to be easily stored on a DVD. All Photoshop files can be opened in Photoshop Elements. [^1]: The existence of vector fermions (or scalars) with this property has not been derived from a unitarity analysis based on non-abelian gauge group, but has been assumed a priori. The possible origin of the existence of vector bosons with the given property has been discussed (in particular, Z_4 symmetric form) in the context of the electroweak theory (e.g., ref.[@lykken]). We here propose the present model as a novel and concrete model, where the Z_4 symmetry is dynamically generated. [^2]: We have checked that this constraint is satisfied by the spontaneous breakdown of the Z_4 symmetry. August 03, 2006 "Did you hear the Muslims protesting the Oklahoma flag decision?" an impish friend asked. We chuckled at the idea of hundreds of Muslims, many of whom would be on their way to the next holy war, protesting the decision by the three-judge panel in the Oklahoma Supreme Court to reject an appeal by two Muslim plaintiffs who want the state's flag changed. The panel's unanimous ruling upholds a law passed by the Oklahoma legislature in 2004, giving rise to a series of TV and newspaper stories about Islamic sensitivity that could one day lead to an Islamic state within the borders of the United States. What were Muslims doing in Oklahoma, on a Saturday morning, about an important legal issue? In reality, the Oklahoma state flag is a tragedy of the worst kind. There is nothing about it that might ever turn a Muslim, Jew, Christian or member of any other religion into an extremist. But the flag does serve as a readymade recruiting tool for Islamic activists. I've heard the Oklahoma NAACP denounce the decision to keep the state flag, and the Oklahoma Civil Liberties Union decry the unconstitutional flag-counting statute. The three judges, my friend thought, should change the

Study: Drugs Linked to Becoming Maternal NEW YORK (AP) — Drugs taken by pregnant women or prescribed to their babies could be linked to a higher risk of developing autism, a new study suggests. The research published Thursday suggests the risk of autism increases if a mother was exposed to drugs while pregnant or if the pregnant woman was prescribed certain anti-depressants. Experts and women in the study noted that the effects of drugs on fetuses and children have not been well-established, and that the findings do not mean that drugs cause autism. The study involved as many as 1,100 mothers in Norway who were given mental health surveys. The researchers found that mothers who took at least one drug in the first three months of pregnancy were nearly 50 percent more likely to have a child with autism or a developmental disorder than mothers not taking any drugs during pregnancy. The study also found that mothers who took drugs after they gave birth were more likely to have children with autism or developmental disorders, but they did not have a higher risk than mothers who were not prescribed any drugs. The researchers suggested the link might be because mothers who took drugs may have needed to be treated for conditions that sometimes make children autistic. Kristine L. Pruksch, a psychologist at the University of Calgary in Canada, said it is not clear whether the mothers used the drugs for depression during pregnancy or after, but the chance of becoming depressed during pregnancy is higher if one was previously depressed. "The question is whether that's what actually is triggering autism or whether it's something else," Pruksch said. "It's very hard to tease out," said Mark Obert, a pediatrician at Johns Hopkins University and director of the school's Center for Autism and Pregnancy Research. "We think it's not really genetic. It's more about the mother's ability to be good and stay well and protect the child during this critical period." Dr. Diana Elkins, a psychologist at the University of Michigan, said the study reinforces the need for safe drugs for pregnant women and children. "We have good reason to be concerned with drugs in general," Elkins said. "And we should be aware of the emerging research on that topic." Elkins said if drugs are used to treat serious illnesses, doctors would be expected to prescribe the safest and most effective treatments for the mother and baby. The study also included mothers who were prescribed anti-dep
