Its purpose is to enable you to create professional-quality, high-quality digital memories that are presented as slide shows. The Photo Curator is a tool that essentially is a slide show application. To create an image that is high quality, it is imperative that your camera settings be set appropriately, which are explained later in this chapter. The photo is first loaded onto a Photoshop canvas and then the Photo Curator tool is used to assemble a slideshow that includes automatically placed pictures. When finished, the slide show is saved to memory. It is important to begin your first image with a fresh canvas or window because once you have applied a filter, effect, or layer it will be overwritten unless it is saved as a separate document or image. The Photo Curator tool is a great tool for beginners, especially those who are beginning to learn Photoshop but are frustrated with the complexity of organizing layers. The Photo Curator tool enables you to quickly organize and create slide shows without having to begin with a blank canvas. To use the Photo Curator tool, follow these steps: 1. Click on the Photo Curator icon in the Control Panel, which looks like a movie camera. See Figure 1.4c. 2. Click and drag a picture you want to use. Move the cursor over a picture to select it, then click and drag it to the canvas and drop it there. Press Shift when you drop it to select multiple images at once. 3. Figure out the best photograph for the slide show and what kind of picture or slideshow you would like to create. If you want to use your camera's built-in screen as a preview, change the Zoom slider to 100%. This provides a view

Possible mechanism of the bile acid-induced metabolism of amphipathic peptides in serum. The effects of bile acids on the metabolism of amphipathic peptides in serum was studied. Serum was incubated with increasing concentrations of glycodeoxycholic acid (GDC), taurodeoxycholic acid (TDC) or deoxycholic acid (DCA). After removal of serum proteins by trichloroacetic acid the peptide patterns in the supernatants were compared with those in control serum. The GDC-treatment resulted in the loss of several peptides from the peptide patterns, whereas the increase of TDC-and DCA-levels resulted in an elevation of several unidentified peptides. Both effects could be abrogated in the presence of BDC. Thus, GDC apparently induces a conformation of serum protein which is not recognized by the TDC-specific monoclonal antibody in ELISA. It is proposed that the effect of bile acids may be mediated by alterations in the haptoglobin-lipid complex. A Florida woman has been charged with murder in connection with the death of a five-year-old boy who had been dismembered by his brother, according to reports. "She had knowledge of what he was planning and she took it a step further," U.S. Attorney Robert O'Brien told the Orlando Sentinel. "He came looking for a specific thing. She had the ability to provide that to him." Ramirez Alvarez, 27, was charged with second-degree murder in the death of her son, Iban Ceballos, who was found dead at the family's home on Dec. 30, 2017. The Florida Department of Law Enforcement said that after Iban's death Alvarez initially told investigators that he "fell out of bed." But Alvarez later changed her story and said that her son had been cut up with a machete, according to the Orlando Sentinel. "She takes no responsibility for her actions," her attorney, Melisa McNeill, told the newspaper. "She maintains she did not know that he was going to kill the child." ABC News reported that when Ceballos died, Alvarez had a bruise on her leg and scratches on her hand. Investigators said that Alvarez and her husband, Iban Flores, 25
