It will open and fill the comboboxes with data. The first combo box is not populated at first, but when you select an option the others are populated as expected. However, if the form opens and is initially closed, then the next time it is opened the first combo box has blank selected. So if you select anything from that first combo box, it makes no difference and the others drop down as expected. If the form closes and the next time opens, the first combo box is blank again. This happens regardless of if the form is opened or closed when the data is pulled. Its only happening with the first combo box. Any ideas? I've tried opening form code with this and it isn't changing anything. Private Sub UserForm_Open() With ds .Clear .OpenRecordset End With End Sub A: I don't know why it's happening but I've since found a work around. I'm reading data into the form as needed and reading it out of the form when you close the form. Private Sub UserForm_Initialize() If Me.Parent.Model![[test]] = "" Then Me.Parent.Model![[test]] = Me.TestCombo.Column(1) End If End Sub Private Sub UserForm_Terminate() If Me.Parent.Model![[test]] Me.TestCombo.Column(1) Then Me.TestCombo.Column(1) = Me.Parent.Model![[test]] End If End Sub Anomalous chiroptical properties of C60 and substituted metallocenes in a binary mixture. A middle-aged man is brutally murdered. Somebody is going around the house, singing to himself. A terrible fire burns in a motel. A glowing ball of light moves from house to house. And there are inexplicable sightings of strange creatures in the woods nearby. It turns out that the local landlady, Norma Mudgett, has some secret ties with the dead man and is getting rich off the increasingly bizarre deaths. And between her, in a sort of Catwoman-Hannibal TV show crossover, is a mysterious man calling himself the Eeebus.
