John Noël Auer is an American writer and director who grew up in the movie capital of the world, Hollywood, California. His acclaimed documentary series, "Hollywood And Backlot," documents the evolution of the Hollywood movie industry over the past 100-plus years. His latest documentary, "The Decline of Western Civilization" premiered in 2016 on Hulu and the E! Channel. He has garnered two Emmy Award nominations and has been featured in Vanity Fair, The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, LA Weekly and many others. He is currently working on his new project, set to premiere in Fall 2019, to be titled, "The Last Days of Elvis. Spoiler Warning: A review of the second season of "Hollywood And Backlot," hosted by John Noël Auer and co-produced with the filmmakers Nick and Amy Goers, follows. Synopsis: For the 100-plus years of its existence, Hollywood has been a city where the glitz has been continually bolstered by the portrayal of what's at the very core of any city: the heart of a real community. This season, "Hollywood And Backlot" features interviews with: George Lucas, Richard LaGravenese, Chris Mulkey, and Stuart Gill Non-Hollywood directors and actors who live, work or have worked in the city over the years: Mike Leigh, James Schamus, Richard Linklater, Spike Lee, George Clooney, Ethan Hawke, Keith Gordon, Michael Moore, Evan Rachel Wood, John Crowley, Christopher Nolan, and many more. Noël Auer and his team, who have researched the moving town over the last 100-plus years, examine Hollywood's changing industry and its effect on the evolution of the city. "Hollywood and Backlot" is a long-running television program hosted by movie historian and writer John Noël Auer. It airs on the Travel Channel; repeated at 10pm Sunday, 11pm Monday, 11pm Tuesday, 11pm Wednesday and 10pm Thursday. The show features interviews with actors, filmmakers and other historical figures who have played a major role in the Hollywood movie industry. The program was produced by Auer, his wife, Amy Goers, and their production company Noël Films.
