The dynamics of the oral cavity. Oral function occurs in the oral cavity, where anatomical structures interact dynamically to shape, maintain, and sense food and beverages. This article examines the dynamics of the oral cavity, including oral sensory perception, mechanical digestion and tissue breakdown and repair, the dynamics of oral fluid flow and its transport, oral fluid compartments and their relationship to common diseases of the oral cavity, oral taste, oral secretions, and oral bacterial flora. Dynamic processes of the oral cavity are summarized in a functional model of the mouth. A proposed dynamic oral function can be used to represent the role of the oral environment in disease processes, including bacterial colonisation, gingivitis, plaque formation, caries, periodontal disease, and temporomandibular joint problems. Hello every one, i am working on my project in Java using JDK 1.4.2. i have a question about MultiThreading.. i have a requirement like in my program i have to insert 1000000 record into a table but its not working.. if any one have an idea can he post it over here please.. below i have mentioned my code line by line. @Yogesh no it's not possible to insert 1000000 record at a time it's against the database constraint.as u can see you are inserting duplicate recorss as u are getting here [1] [2] One of the common problem in MultiThreading is concurrency control which can be solved by using locks. @Bye! Answered on 22/Nov/2007. Helpful answers are preferred. Hello Anuj, thanks for reply but u have to keep it more realistic, i mean 100000 recor is not possible, so what i do is i keep increasing the number that i insert and then press cancel, so i decrease the number of time i do it in a loop and thus make it insert record 100000 records... thanks One of the common problem in MultiThreading is concurrency control which can be solved by using locks. Hi Vinay, thanks for posting

You can reduce the number of strokes or size of the pen by switching brush presets or adjusting the brush. The Smudge Brush is used to create a gradient or smudge image. Erasers are another useful tool. The Eraser Tool can be used for softening edges or reducing the intensity of a color. The Gradient Tool is a solid line or a gradient that you can create and use it as a background for your images. The Eraser Tool is used to erase or remove objects. The Skew

Tool is used to distort the edges or proportions of an image, which can be done to make it appear more realistic. The Shape Tools allow you to create and edit shapes. The Rectangle Tool draws a rectangular area. The Elliptical tool can be used to draw an ellipse. The rounded rectangle tool is helpful for creating a rounded shape. The Text tool allows you to edit text and type text, which can also be added to images as captions. After logging in you will be redirected to the homepage. From there you need to click on the search button, which is highlighted in yellow, to search the forums. If you enter a search term in the text box, you'll be redirected to a search results page. Each of the entries in the list contains a link to the post.

Clicking on these links will open the corresponding post in a new browser tab. The green bar above the forum displays the topics. Clicking on the topics displays topics in reverse chronological order. You may use the search box to narrow your results. Forum posts are stored according to the forum you're visiting. If you're not a registered user, you may click the 'login or register' button at the top-right of the page to register. Each forum has a unique login link. You can leave a discussion by clicking the 'x' at the top-right of the post you're viewing. Topic titles are highlighted in yellow. Clicking on the title of a post will highlight the post or open a discussion in a new tab. Users are displayed in each column of the forum. The number at the end of each user's name is the last topic they posted in. The post timestamps are displayed at the bottom-right of each post. The most recently posted topics are displayed first. The first column is for signed-in members. If you are currently logged out you will be directed
