find the cause of an intermittent error? My web application has a partial code coverage of 95% (out of 6500 LOC), and some time we get an error even though all the tests are passing. The code seems to be logically correct, and when it is failing it usually fails on different places in the code. To get to the root cause of the bug, I can debug/profile/etc. a couple of times but then I get lost in a 200+ lines of code. I could get hints by removing all the code which is NOT critical for testing and then run all the tests again. This way at least I can narrow down the failing to the smallest code that is critical. Is there any better way? Like a debugger etc. which can help me to find the cause of the error? A: When I run into this, I usually go through the App_Error handler. First, I check all my global exceptions on every page load. If a page can't load, I check for global exceptions.

Second, I add some exception handling in the web app to account for problems that would only

Burnham Mendelson Burnham Mendelson LLP (formerly Shearman & Sterling) is a global law firm with more than 1,400 lawyers and offices in New York City, San Francisco, Washington, DC, London, Beijing, Hong Kong, Shanghai, and Tokyo. Burnham Mendelson is named among the "Legal Elite Top 150" (3rd tier) and "World's Most Innovative Law Firm" by Legal Week. The firm is ranked 14th of the Top 100 U.S. law firms by IPE Magazine. Burnham Mendelson was named the top law firm for mergers & acquisitions by the Mergermarket Top 100 EMEA M&A Lawyers 2017. In 2015, the firm was ranked as the ninth-largest law firm in the U.S. by Law360, the largest law firm in Asia by Legal 500, the only Asia-based firm in the top 100 and second-largest M&A law firm in the world. History Burnham, Shearman & Sterling was formed in January 1995 by the consolidation of Shearman & Sterling, Shearman Sterling &

Wright, and Branscomb Wright. The firm initially had approximately 300 attorneys. In 1997, Burnham Shearman merged with the Baltimore firm of Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson (Fried, Frank) to form what was then the third-largest law firm in the country, and the largest outside of New York and Washington, with more than 650 attorneys. After the Fried, Frank merger, Burnham Shearman began consolidating with other firms in Baltimore. In May 2000, Burnham Shearman's Baltimore office and 21 affiliates formed a new law firm, the new firm being named Burnham Shearman & Penn. In January 2003, Burnham Shearman acquired the Cleveland, Ohio and New York City law firms of Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson. The acquisition included the U.S. firm of Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson's personal injury trial team, a group of lawyers with a reputation for winning cases while paying out the lowest possible jury verdicts. In 2005, the firm was ranked as the 14th largest firm in
