Green Bay Packers rolled over the Indianapolis Colts, 33-7, Sunday. Rodgers broke Jim McMahon's single-season record of 308 passing TDs. They trail Kansas City's Priest Holmes with 325. Manning was concussed in Denver's Week 4 loss to the Packers. He also passed for two touchdowns, completed 15 of 23 for 198 yards. The Broncos' 18-point comeback win over the Jets on Sunday was their lowest-scoring effort of the season. Tony Romo threw for two TDs and 260 yards and rushed for another as the Dallas Cowboys beat Kansas City 41-13. Romo put Dallas ahead, 15-13, with a 12-yard TD to Dez Bryant in the fourth quarter, the third time he has thrown the ball to him on the season. With the score tied at 3-3 in the second quarter, Romo hit Bryant again, a 33-yarder. He later scrambled for a touchdown. The win was Dallas' sixth in a row and put them in control of the NFC East and its potential first-round bye. Wins by the Eagles and Giants helped Carolina climb into the thick of the NFC South race. The Panthers (6-4) gained some breathing room with a 43-0 win over the struggling Browns, on a 17-yard TD run by DeAngelo Williams in the first quarter. After former NFL receiver Boomer Esiason was knocked out of the game with a shoulder injury, Jay Cutler rebounded from a Week 3 loss to throw four TDs for the Chicago Bears, 42-17, over the New England Patriots. Chicago's defense held Brady to 151 yards passing, the first time in six games he has failed to top the 100-yard mark this season. Two of Cutler's TDs came on passes of 50-plus yards, the first time in 2013 for Chicago. Houston has five interceptions and scored a season-high 31 points in a 37-13 victory d0c515b9f4

Microsoft Power BI for Professional Analytics and Business Intelligence.The Central European region has been an ever-present model for the rest of the world — a shining example of a country with a high quality of life, high standard of living, and a developed and free market economy. As countries in the region continue to stand firm in the face of economic uncertainty, it seems like time to take a moment and look back at some of the best years in the region's history — and what it represents as a model for the rest of the world. Most Read Stories From 1991 to 2001, Hungary was the only non-communist state in Eastern Europe to keep all its hard currency exchange rates fixed. This was a big achievement in a region where most of its neighbours only fixed their exchange rates about two-thirds of the time. After the fall of the Soviet Union and the subsequent collapse of the Eastern Bloc, Hungarians had reached the end of the long road to democracy. Having had to wait for this windfall of cheap capital that came after the break-up of the Soviet Union, the country had no readymade political infrastructure to cope with the massive change. Hungarian democracy is not a democracy of personal freedoms, but a democracy of free markets — this was in marked contrast with other former communist states. After 1989, the newly elected parliament made many of the anti-communist, anti-union and pro-free market measures that were long demanded by the left wing parties of the 1980s, but not put into effect until the end of the 1990s. Hungarian democracy is not a democracy of personal freedoms, but a democracy of free markets — this was in marked contrast with other former communist states. Unfortunately, as many countries in Eastern Europe, the Hungarian government went bankrupt. But unlike some of its neighbours, Hungary managed to avoid a full-blown bank
